We are dental hygienists, educators and students from throughout the NY state. We are in clinical and non-clinical settings in private dental offices, public health clinics, hospitals, schools, correctional facilities and in corporate offices. We are researchers, managers and advocates. We are at all stages of our careers.

How to become a member?
Apply on line at www.nydha.org or contact us at:
New York Dental Hygienists' Association
1 PO Box 16041
Albany, NY 12212
info@nydha.org

Your membership includes the:
1. New York Dental Hygienists’ Association
2. American Dental Hygienists’ Association
3. And your local component dental hygienists’ association

Membership gives you the voice and resources for NY State dental hygienists on the state, national and local levels.
What if the expertise, energy and experience of dental hygienists in New York State were combined?

What if you had access to these collaborations and resources?

You have voice and access:

The New York Dental Hygienists’ Association works for you and with you, in very practical ways:

- Sponsoring reduced-fee educational forums as well as resources in this ever-evolving and growing field
- Advocating for NY state dental hygienists on legislation, regulations, and licensure
- Advancing the professional development of dental hygiene
- Raising public awareness of the importance of oral health in wellness
- Providing access to products and services at special member rates

Where are we?

We’re at the table:

With offices just doors from state buildings, NY DHA is in action in the legislative halls, at the table with licensing and regulatory officials, and meeting with other health care organizations. We are working to protect and advance your practice of dental hygiene and promote access to oral health.

Gaining enactment of the local anesthesia law for RDHs is just one example of NYDHA’s efforts.
