Register Now for August 1 COVID-19 Webinar

NYDHA is pleased to present a one-hour CE virtual webinar, “COVID-19: Now That You Have Returned to Work” on Saturday, August 1 from 10-11 a.m. The program is open to NYDHA members free of charge, as a benefit of membership and at $15 for nonmembers. Register here.

The webinar will be presented by NYDHA Vice President of Professional Development Pamela Quinn, MSEd, RDH, with NYDHA President Donna Burgess, MSEd, RDH. The course objectives are to share information that may help with what dental hygienists are experiencing in the practice and provide information and access to links for reliable resources on concerns in practicing during and as a result of this pandemic. Discussion will include state and federal guidelines and other guidance, infection control, personal protective equipment, aerosol reduction, and other measures.

The program follows up on NYDHA’s COVID-19: What’s Next? webinar held May 9 and will discuss developments since that spring program and draw on direct experience of putting guidance into actual practice since New York State authorized dental offices to open June 1 for services beyond emergencies.

In addition to Pamela Quinn and Donna Burgess (pictured at right), the program planners included Tiffany Kerns, BT, RDH, Immediate Past President and Technology Chair, and Jillian Gardynski, RDH, consultant.

This CE is part of NYDHA’s ongoing professional development services and its COVID-19 response to share information and advocate for dental hygienists with government officials and regulators.

Questions? Contact info@nydha.org. Please continue to follow the NYDHA website and Facebook postings for developments concerning COVID-19 and other matters for dental hygienists.